Frank Bowling, My Cup Runneth Over.Cure3. 2020

CURE³ OPENS: 5 – 8 SEPTEMBER

NEW FOR 2020 – FRANK BOWLING, DO HO-SUH, MONA HATOUM
CUBES BY LEADING FASHION DESIGNERS - THE FENWICK OF BOND STREET WINDOW

The Cure Parkinson's Trust (CPT), in association with Bonhams and Artwise, are delighted to announce the Opening on 5th September of Cure³ - the critically acclaimed selling exhibition devised to raise awareness and funds for curative Parkinson's research. With a record-breaking participation for 2020, including more than 80 internationally renowned artists joined this year by 11 specially invited fashion designers, our goal is to top the million £ mark of funds raised to date by Cure³ – all profits will go directly towards Parkinson's research. Sales for Cure³ open at 8am on 8th September - exclusively on www.cure3.co.uk.

Highlights for this year include a highly unusual sculptural work by the legendary British Guyana-born painter Frank Bowling, a new addition to the illustrious roster of artists who have participated in Cure³. Priced at £65,000, 'My Cup Runneth Over' is the most valuable work ever to be offered for sale at Cure³. We are also delighted to welcome Mona Hatoum, Do Ho Suh, Hurvin Anderson and Chantal Joffe as first-time participators, joining a host of renowned returning artists including Conrad Shawcross, Ron Arad, Rana Begum, Annie Morris and Idris Khan. The stellar line-up for 2020 is completed by 11 well-known names from the world of fashion, including Charlie Casely-Hayford, Giles Deacon, Molly Goddard, Roksanđa Ilinčić and Simone Rocha.

Cure³ is an opportunity to buy original art works by a host of celebrated artists whilst also supporting the important work of the charity. For 2020 there are 3 ways to experience Cure³ all works are available to view and buy at www.cure3.co.uk and also presented in a showcase exhibition at Bonhams, London from 5th -8th September. For the occasion of Cure3 2020, we are thrilled to announce a new partnership with Fenwick, for a limited time before the exhibition a selection of artist and designer cubes are on show in a specially created window display. The partnership will continue during London Fashion Week, where a selection of the fashion designer Cure3 artworks will be on display in the Bond Street store.

Completing the fashion theme for 2020, Cure³ is also delighted to announce the collaboration with heritage brand, Richard Allan London and the creation of a special Cure³ edition silk scarf. Available in 2 colourways, hand finished and entirely made in the UK, the Cure³ scarf is based on a vintage 1960s design. Priced at £350, with all profits going directly to CPT, the scarf will be available to purchase from www.cure3.co.uk and Bonhams during the duration of the exhibition and thereafter through selected Richard Allan retail partners

Susie Allen and Laura Culpan of Artwise commented: "We are constantly inspired by the creativity and originality of fashion designers and this year we are very excited to extend the concept of Cure³ to include them."

Fashion designers are used to working 'in the round' and we hope that Cure³ provides an opportunity to play and experiment, as well as creating a unique chance for collectors and fashion-followers to purchase an original work of art by these incredibly talented individuals."

The bespoke Perspex box 20cm³ given to each artist to create their original artworks, presents a challenge which can be used in multiple ways, including as frame, support and to contain. These unique, highly sought-after and collectable art works are represented at Cure³ 2020 with prices ranging from £500 to £65,000, with prices for individual works published on www.cure3.co.uk We are delighted to announce the full list of participating artists here:

Charles Kirwan-Taylor, Chairman of Cure3, said "We are delighted to be partnering with Artwise curators and Bonhams to deliver the third edition of the unique art show, Cure³. It is uplifting to see that even in the current environment so many incredible artists have once again donated their time and their talent to create artworks to be sold to raise funds for research with the potential to cure Parkinson's."

Parkinson's is a debilitating condition affecting over 145,000 people in the UK and 7 - 10 million people worldwide. Co-Founded by Tom Isaacs in 2005, The Cure Parkinson's Trust (CPT) is a charity created by and for people living with Parkinson's with one bold aim – to find a cure for Parkinson's.

For the last 15 years CPT has been committed to funding ground-breaking research into new treatments and to date, Cure³ has raised more than ¾ million pounds.

CPT is the only charity in the UK solely focussed on finding a cure for Parkinson's. In its 15th anniversary year, CPT can look back over numerous landmark achievements it has helped fund and support towards this goal including:

- Trials into the re-purposing of existing drugs as an effective treatment for Parkinson's and the launch of the International Linked Trials Programme (iLCT) in 2012.
- The consistent championing of the involvement of people with Parkinson's in research design and delivery of new treatments – helping to potentially speed up clinical trials, as well as ensuring that they are relevant and deliverable.
- Funding pioneering research into the development of stem cell therapies for the treatment of Parkinson's.
- Supporting the remarkable clinical trial, which also included the late Tom Isaacs as participant, involving ground-breaking surgery to deliver the protein GDNF direct to the brain using a specially designed delivery system. The trial was the subject of the award-winning BBC Documentary, The Parkinson's Drug Trial: A Miracle Cure?

Cure³ is devised by Susie Allen and Laura Culpan from Artwise, the dynamic curatorial team behind the original RCA Secret postcard project. Cure³ has established itself as a critical and commercial success, securing plaudits from a host of international media including SKY News, BBC News, F.T, How To Spend It, The Evening Standard, The Sunday Times, The Observer Magazine, The Telegraph, The Art Newspaper, Wallpaper* and World of Interiors – as well as raising significant funds for the ongoing work of CPT.

In 2005, the goal of CPT was to render the charity redundant by finding a cure for Parkinson's. The funds raised by Cure³ in 2020 will support the essential work carried out by The Cure Parkinson's Trust and continue the legacy of Tom Isaacs with his aim of consigning Parkinson's to a disease of the past.

Harvey Cammell, Deputy Chairman of Bonhams UK, commented "Cure³ is a project Bonhams has been so proud to support since its inception, and we are truly excited to be hosting the exhibition for the third time at our New Bond Street Galleries in September. To have so many artists and designers of this calibre and diversity is phenomenal. The show and the sale will be an amazing opportunity to join the select band of previous cube collectors whilst at the same time generously contribute to this ground-breaking charity actively working to find a cure for Parkinson's Disease."

NOTES TO EDITORS

Format of Selling Exhibition Please note that Cure³ is not an auction, each art work is individually priced by the artist and sold at this fixed price on line at www.cure3.co.uk The works will be on preview at Bonhams from 5th September and sales will go live online from Tuesday 8th September 8am. All profits will go directly to The Cure Parkinson's Trust, to fund research to slow, stop or reverse Parkinson's disease.

The Cure Parkinson's Trust (CPT) takes a patient-centric approach to funding innovative projects and inspirational scientists with the potential to change the course of the condition and make a difference to the lives of people with Parkinson's. Parkinson's is a debilitating condition affecting over 145,000 people in the UK alone and 7-10 million people worldwide. It is a neurological disorder characterised by tremors, stiffness, slowness of movement and balance problems. It is predicted that 1 person in 37 will receive a diagnosis of Parkinson's in their lifetime.

At CPT we believe that we are closer than ever to new treatments. For fifteen years, we have been committed to strategically funding research to find a cure for the condition once and for all. The charity's International Linked Clinical Trials (iLCT) programme identifies potential new treatments by taking existing drugs used to treat other diseases and testing them as treatments for Parkinson's. Our role is to develop clinical trials to understand if these drugs may be effective to slow, stop or even reverse the progression of Parkinson's. We believe that our pioneering and collaborative approach to research will one day soon, deliver curative treatments for Parkinson's.

About Fenwick

Since 1882, Fenwick has been a purveyor of goods of note for shoppers of exceptional taste. Behind our modern outlook, astute product selection, unique collaborations and extraordinary service lies a brilliantly British style and spirit. For more than 130 years we have been, as our founder described it, a department store to delight the thoughtful woman – a sentiment that continues to hold true today.

Artwise Curators (founded in 1996) is a curatorial collective based in London, run by Susie Allen and Laura Culpan, that specialises in curating and producing public art commissions, museum and gallery exhibitions, and innovative art projects for charities such as CPT, WWF and the IUCN (International Union for the Conservation of Nature). Artwise projects have been exhibited in many inspiring spaces, such as Kunstmuseum Wolfsburg; Groninger Museum; Centraal Museum, Utrecht; Centre Georges Pompidou, Paris; The Whitechapel Gallery, and Design Museum in London. Artwise was commissioned to curate the international exhibition for the official Pavilion of Azerbaijan at the 56th Venice Biennale in 2015. www.artwisecurators.com
